Intermediaries, influencers, and potential partners

Search Engines

The high use of search engines on a daily basis can affect purchasing decision. If ShareBliss wants to take advantage of the high traffic that passes through websites like Google and Bing, they need to make sure their advertising and location on searches is relevant. If that cannot be found by these methods, their brand message and purpose will not be exposed.

Aggregators

It is important for ShareBliss to have a presence online to make sure they have numbers in online aggregated research totals. This will make sure that researching customers are aware of their presence against competitors.

Social Networks

This is a huge presence to have for ShareBliss. Since their website is based off marketing through these social media resources, they have to make sure that the users of the social media know they exist. Since Facebook users already exist, ShareBliss needs to make sure their benefits and purpose are shared on this medium, that way in return customers start using ShareBliss in addition to the social networking sites.

Bloggers

Customers use blogs as an outlet of sharing their own personal opinions and stories through an online setting. This means that those bloggers could be a potential advertising space for ShareBliss to take advantage of. If there is a way they can incorporate this into their sharing process then they should. That way bloggers would have an outlet to use the resources they already do while combining it with the benefits that ShareBliss can offer.

Experience/Survey Results

- Personal – My personal opinion about ShareBliss, has been mostly been portrayed throughout this assignment. So again, I really feel that they have a great idea and a lot of potential to have a successful idea and company. They just need to make the changes suggested and look at evaluating their standings, increasing marketing aspects, and making sure users have an adequate amount of information in order user the website and its features.

- Friends – From input received from those who completed the online survey I received similar opinions to my own. They all felt that there should be a bigger presence on social media and search engine channels. None of them have heard of this website, or really the idea that they were promoting. All liked the idea a lot, but were looking for a little more guidance on the features and how it all exactly works. All of these opinions, including my personal ones, can all be easily addressed in order to add to the overall success of ShareBliss.

Phase II - Goal Setting

Objectives:
- Increase Customer Usage
- Create Brand Awareness
- Increase Marketing Efforts
- Improve Website
Goal Framework:

Customer Usage
- Use promotional outlets to recruit new members
- KPI - evaluate increased number of registered users at specific time increments
- These efforts will promote customer use, as well as retention

Brand Awareness
- Use social and search media channels to establish awareness
- KPI - evaluate increased users, look at the amount of search traffic gained from this

Marketing Efforts
- Establish new marketing outlets to address customers needs and wants
- KPI - evaluate with amount of new advertisement that ShareBliss chooses to pursue

Improve Website
- Add information and details to website to describe ShareBliss's mission and intentions
- KPI - look at how many times search aspects are clicked/number of site visits

This goal will tie in the other objectives, it will give customers a resource to use, while strengthening the brand and marketing efforts

Phase III – Strategy for Goal Achievement

Targeting/Segmentation:

<table>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• 16-60 years of age</td>
<td>• Comfortable with online shopping</td>
<td>• Social Media sharing online already exists</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Internet Purchasers</td>
<td>• Comfortable with social media use</td>
<td>• Purchases are looking for a way to earn rewards for their purchases</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Social Media Networking users</td>
<td>• Purchase products that have been purchased and shared by individuals they know</td>
<td></td>
</tr>

Positioning

Credibility

- Social sharing increases product awareness and provides a service like no other

Online Value Proposition

- An online resource where you can share products and earn cash rewards!

Key Messages

- Define our purpose and goals
- Support our existence

Product

- Additonal value added through increase of information provided
- Additional sharing options should also be provided

Price

- Additonal information about reward options
- Increase rewards based on price of repurchased product

Place

- Expand sharing options - include more then just Facebook and Twitter
- Create Search Media presence on places like Google and Bing etc.

Promotion

- Use current Facebook/ Twitter presence to attain new customers
- Use new outlets via Pinterest, Google, and Youtube this will establish a solid brand
Brand Strategy: Increase Credibility with Objectives

- Increase Customer Usage
  - Word of mouth promotion
  - More customers, promote goals and objectives

- Brand Awareness
  - Broader customer base will promote new users
  - Use large retailers that will promote usage at time of purchase

- Increase Marketing
  - Reach new potential customers
  - Use Social and Search media to increase advertisement efforts

- Improve Website
  - Provide information that allows users to understand purpose
  - Promote the purpose while visually appealing to increase credibility

Online Representation:

Expand With Online Retailers
- Build a large online retail relationship
- Promote the act of "sharing" at the time of purchase
- Place ShareBliss logo on item description pages to access

Use Social Media Promotions
- Place ShareBliss logo on items to be shared directly to account
- Allow promotions to increase sharing and reward amounts
- Provide incentives for current users to promote new members to join

Engagement Strategy:

Website Content
Increasing the usability of ShareBliss online will promote their purpose and give information that should be readily available to current and prospective users. This information will already begin to provide valuable content that will engage users in our mission as a company.

Representation
Using a large retailer to promote our purpose and company would gain a lot of engagement. To see that a large already branded organization is promoting us on their product pages would create a strong brand for us while increasing our marketing channels.
Acquisition/Social Media Strategy:

Search Engine Marketing

- ShareBliss needs to promote their name on large Search Engine companies like Google and Bing - currently no presence exists
- This will promote traffic and a high number of website hits if they enter this marketing segment

Social Media Marketing

- ShareBliss promotes Facebook and Twitter consumers only - consider entering into YouTube, Pinterest, and other similar online sharing companies
- Use the current presence to increasing using previously discussed methods

Partner Marketing

- Build relationships with large retailers (ie Amazon) to strengthen brand and promote our site
- Use ShareBliss logo to create an instant sharing option for online shoppers to use
- This will create traffic, new users, and an additional sharing option

Online Display Advertising

- Use increased advertising on Social Media as well as Search Engine Marketing to strength the ShareBliss brand and bring attention to our online presence

E-Mail Marketing

- Increase traffic by emailing current Facebook and Twitter users that exist, but do not have a ShareBliss sharing account
- Use these existing marketing channels to promote new users

Mobile Marketing

- Look at create an Application that would allow quick and easy sharing
- This could be tied directly into the online social sharing accounts - like if shared via Facebook/Twitter it would also be updated directly to their ShareBliss shop
Phase IV – Executive Summary

The following figure gives a brief overview of the key points that ShareBliss should focus on. It gives a summarized display of the areas discussed in this digital marketing plan. This is also the section that serves as a quick view point for information about the plan and if executed will provide the overall success and insight that this plan will give. Overall, a beneficial future awaits ShareBliss if their current situation is understood and new approaches are implemented.
