

Exercise Pharmacology, KIP4720 Spring 2020

Department of Kinesiology & Integrative Physiology (KIP) Monday & Wednesday
2:05-2:55pm (2 credits) Chemical Sciences & Engr Bldg 0211

Course Description/Overview

- Do you know that ~70% of Americans are taking at least one prescription drug
- Are you interested in learning about how drugs work and how exercise can affect the action of drugs?
- This course will integrate aspects of basic pharmacology, physiology, and exercise to understand treatment of chronic diseases

Course Objectives: Students will understand:

- 1) Basic concept of pharmacology and drug action
- 2) Interaction between physiological changes caused by drugs and those caused by physical activity
- 3) Clinical application of drugs

For more information contact:
Dr. Qinghui Chen (KIP)
qinghuic@mtu.edu