Michigan Tech Alumna '96
B.S. Environmental Eng. & B.S. STC
EHS Specialist at Novo Nordisk

Elizabeth (Libby) Titus is a licensed professional engineer who assists companies with identifying, understanding, and adhering to the environmental, health, and safety rules that apply to their operations. With 20 years of substantive experience, Libby knows that the key to moving projects forward is often effective communication of technical knowledge across the primary stakeholders: Solid engineering designs and high intelligence are irrelevant without good communication skills.
