

GM Manufacturing Initiative Kickoff

Wednesday, April 6th

6:00 pm

Pavlis Honors College – M&M 722

General Motors and the Pavlis Honors College are excited to announce the launch of the GM Manufacturing Initiative as part of the Enterprise program. Any Enterprise team working on a project that requires a prototype, a mold or custom tool, a competition vehicle component or assistance taking a design from CAD to a manufacturable part, should plan on attending the kickoff. Michigan Tech students from any major interested in design for manufacturability, manufacturing processes, supply chain management, supplier qualification, time/cost analysis and gaining the resume building experience found by working across teams on multiple projects, are also invited. Snacks and refreshments will be served. Please join us in learning how the GM Manufacturing Initiative could benefit your Enterprise team!

Michigan Tech

Pavlis
Honors
College