

Particle Fever

Rozsa Center-Thursday, October 23, 7:00 pm (run time 99 min)

(Free Admission)

(5:30-6:30 pm Reception for Mark Levinson / Rozsa Gallery)

Large Hadron Collider--CERN

Mark Levinson--2013

Director Mark Levinson, a physicist turned filmmaker, follows six brilliant scientists during the launch of the Large Hadron Collider.

Particle Fever is a 2013 documentary film tracking the first round of experiments at the Large Hadron Collider near Geneva, Switzerland. The film follows the experimental physicists at CERN who run the experiments, as well as the theoretical physicists who attempt to provide a conceptual framework for the LHC's results. The film begins in 2008 with the first firing of the LHC and concludes in 2012 with the successful identification of the Higgs boson.^[2]

MichiganTech